In Defense of the Reich (Bf-109s)

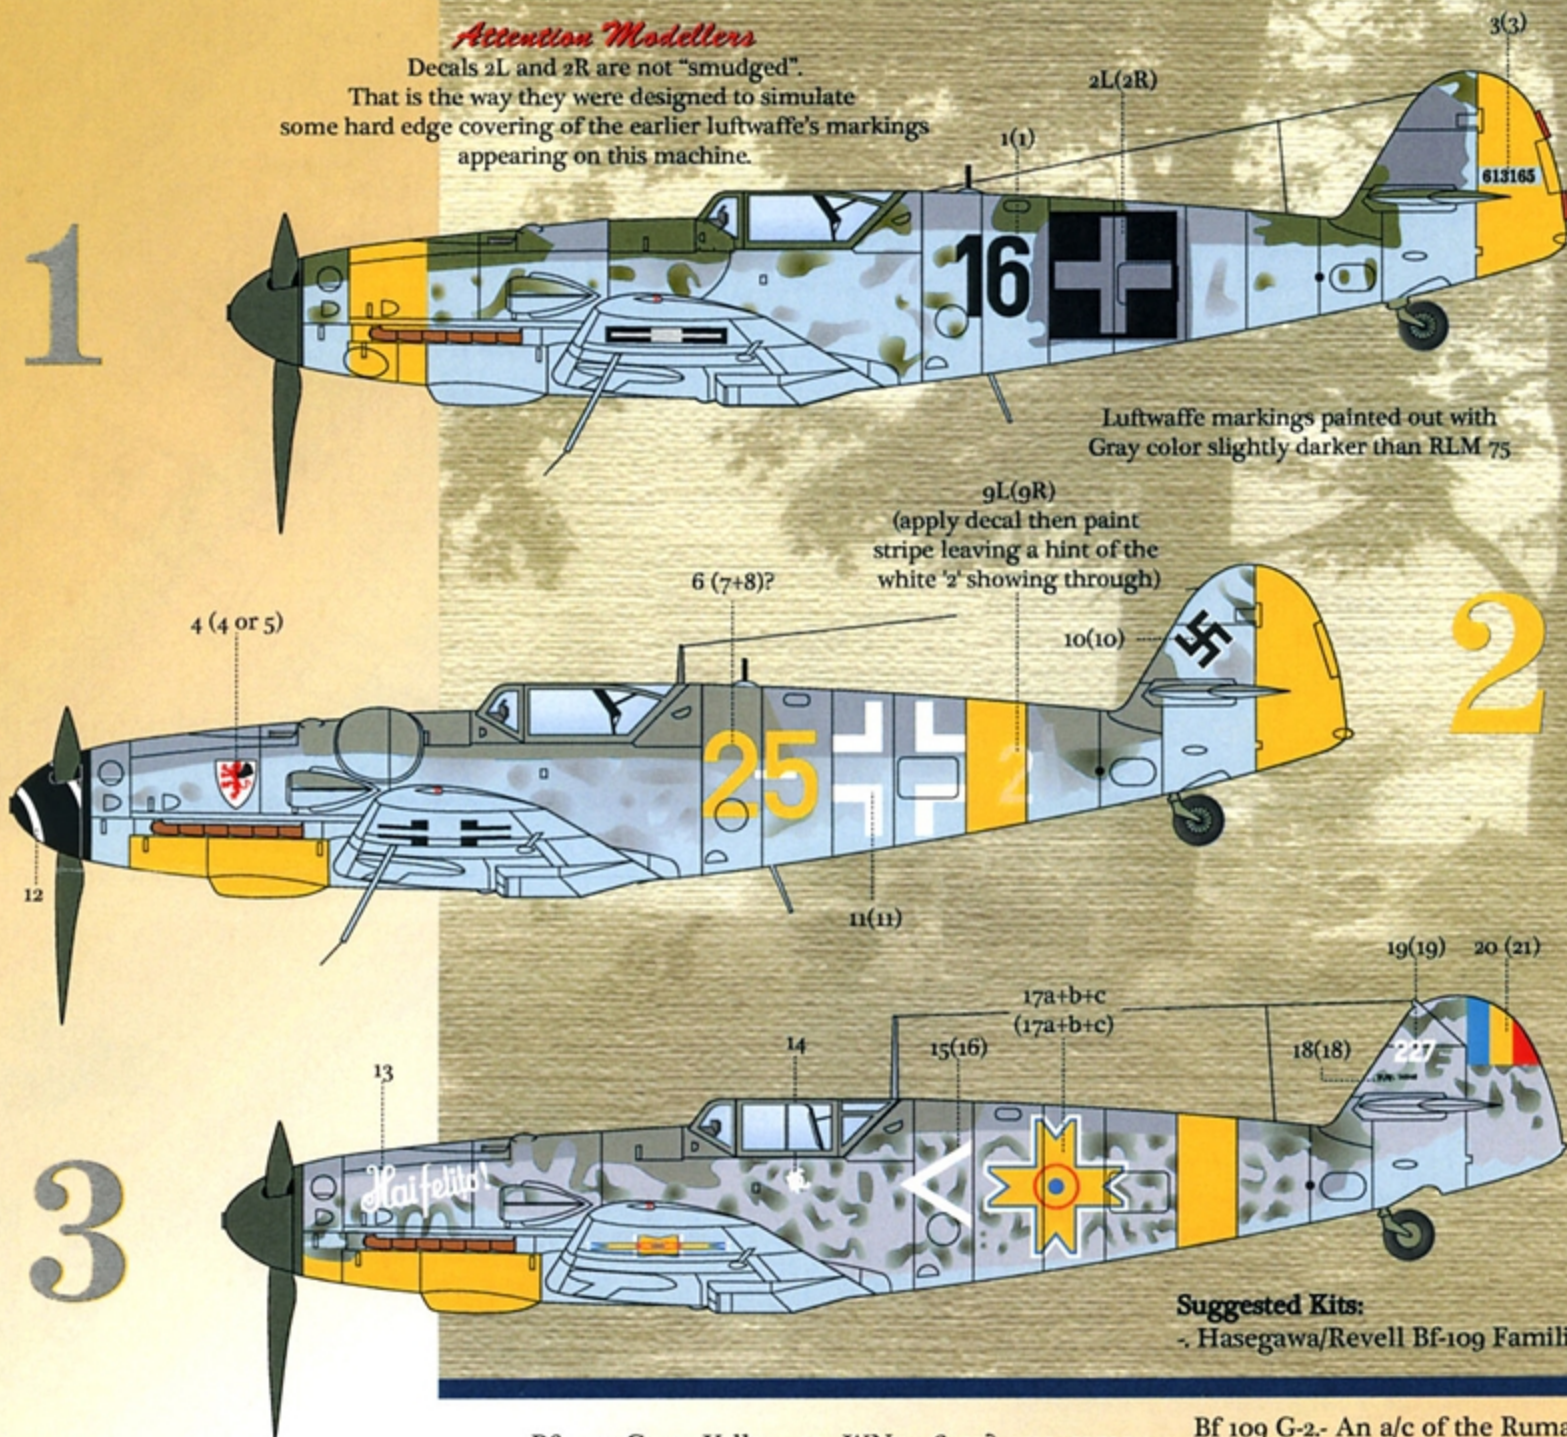

Part 5

Suggested Kits: Hasegawa/Revell Bf-109 Families

Attention Modellers

Decals 2L and 2R are not "smudged".
That is the way they were designed to simulate some hard edge covering of the earlier Luftwaffe's markings appearing on this machine.

Suggested Kits:
- Hasegawa/Revell Bf-109 Families

Bf 109 G-10.- An a/c of the Hungarian Air Force belonging to 101/2 and found, as many Axis a/c, at Neubiberg at the end of the war. As most Luftflotte 4 a/c, it wore a Yellow cowling band. This a/c was finished in the standard Luftwaffe camouflage of RLM 75/83/76 and also had a Yellow rudder. The National markings consisted only of the Black portions. Serial number for this machine was W.Nr. 613165. Notice the Swastika was overpainted with a dk. Gray color.

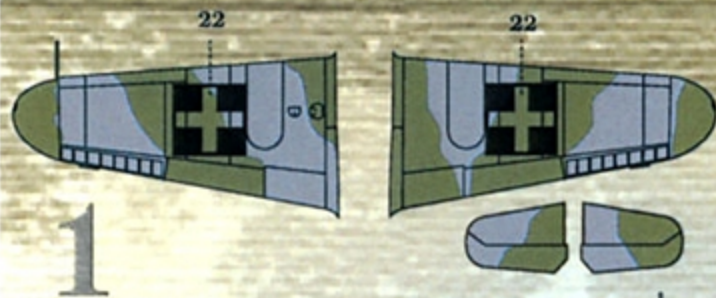

Bf 109 G-14.- Yellow 25, W.Nr. 46459? was camouflaged in the standard day fighter colors of RLM 74/75/76 with Yellow Eastern front markings. The White dash under the number 25 indicates this machine may have originally belonged to IL/JG 51, and the Red Griffin badge on the nose indicates that this a/c may have, at a later date, belonged to KG(J) 55, a group being crewed by bomber pilots flying in the fighter role during the final days. A Black spinner with a very thin spiral and a late canopy complete this very typical but beautiful a/c found at Pilsen, Czech Republic in May or June, 1945.

Bf 109 G-2.- An a/c of the Rumanian Air Force, W.Nr. 14646 and flown by Lt. Ion Di Cesare of the 7th. Group. This very successful Rumanian pilot accounted for 23 destroyed a/c, many US machines amongst them. Std Luftwaffe camouflage consisting of RLM 74/75/76 with RLM 70 spinner/prop. Inscription on the left cowling translates as, "Go for it Little Girl". Yellow lower cowling and fuselage band. Marking under the canopy are the pilots initials interwoven to form a monogram.
