FLYING FORTRESSES OVER EUROPE

Pt. II

"My Devotion", B-17F of the 510th BS, 351st BG, was named after a popular song of the time. Nose art was painted by waist gunner Seymour Ziegler who drew his inspiration from picture of a bathing beauty in YANK magazine. Olive Drab and Neutral Gray camouflage.

"Fort Alamogordo", B-17F of the 840th BS, 483rd BG, 15th AF. Olive Drab and Neutral Gray camouflage with red elevators, prop hubs and rudder. Black de-icing boots fitted leading edges of all flying surfaces.
