WHAT'S OUT THERE?
1/48th Kinetic IA-58 Pucara

The IA-58 Pucara is an Argentinian indigenously designed COIN/attack aircraft. Developed between 1966-1973 with delivery starting in 1975, there have been over 100 aircraft produced for Argentina as well as Uruguay, Colombia and Sri Lanka.

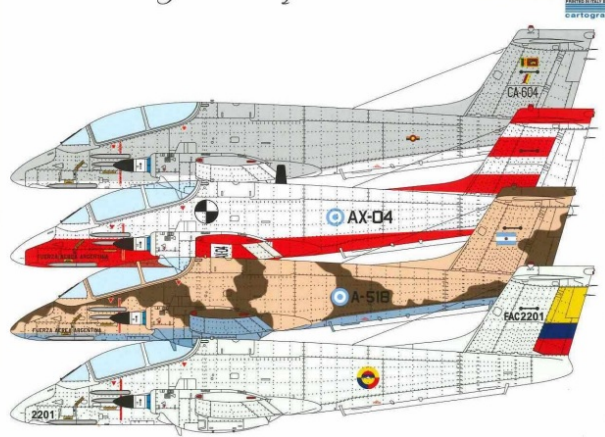

The aircraft is most famous for its role in the Falklands/Malvinas Conflict in 1982.

Represented on this sheet are two export versions of this aircraft along with a special torpedo test and one-off scheme of a FAA aircraft that was originally going to be supplied to Mauritania.

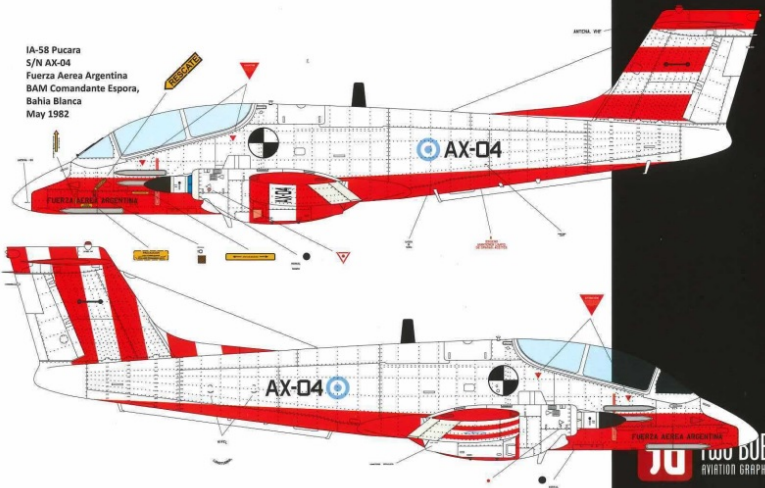

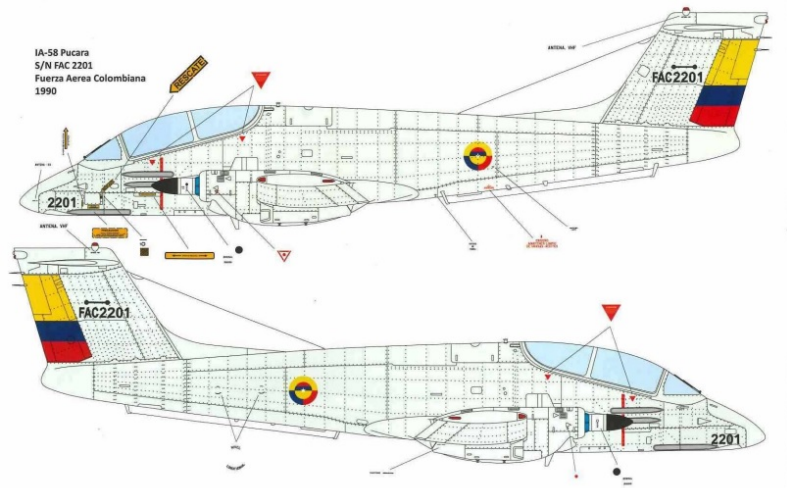

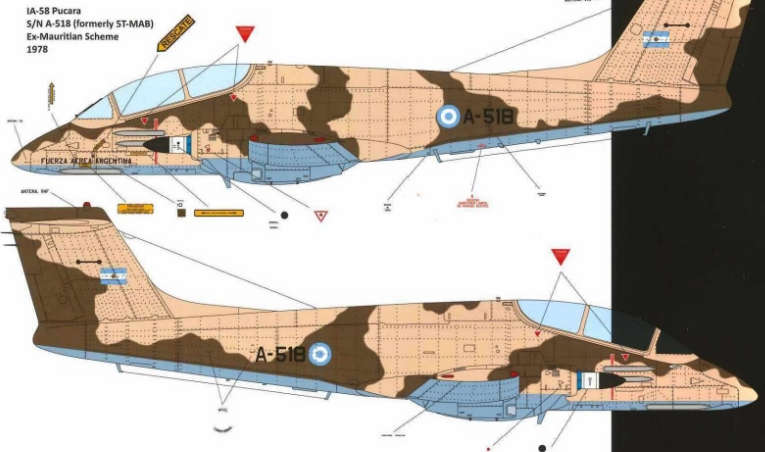

There also additional markings for the modeler to build various aircraft from the Falklands/Malvinas conflict.

Special Thanks to Ricardo Caballero and Laurent Stern for their assistance with this decal sheet.
