Major Hans "Assi" Hahn Part 3 Bf 109s

This series of aircraft were flown by the colorful and dynamic Luftwaffe fighter Experten, Assi Hahn and some of his fellow pilots. Refer to the book Major Hans "Assi" Hahn, the Man and his Machines by Jerry Crandall, available from Eagle Editions for additional information.

Assi Hahn Aircraft No. 10 Bf 109 G-2 II./JG 54 Winter 1942-1943 Rjelbitzy, Russia
This G-2 can be seen in a film of Assi Hahn at Rjelbitzy, Russia. This same aircraft was later flown by Hahn's successor to II./JG 54 Hptm. Heinrich Jung. Notable features include: Vertical bulkhead at rear of canopy, no fresh air scoops on triangular panel under side windscreen, FuG 25 a antenna intact, white side wall tail wheel and main landing gear doors removed to eliminate snow impactment. Werknummer unknown.
COLORS: Undersurfaces, RLM 76 Light Blue; Uppersurfaces, Possibly RLM 75 Gray-Violet/RLM 74 Gray-Green over sprayed with White for snow camouflage, some Gray showing through. Canopy framework mostly RLM 74. (Possibly unusual JG 54 camouflage color pattern of Greens and Grays.) RLM 04 Yellow undercowling and underwing tips; Yellow band behind fuselage cross appears to be painted out. Originally White with RLM 70 Black-Green section, partially over sprayed with White for snow camouflage. Prop Blades, RLM 70 Black-Green. JG 54 used an unusual style of command chevron on many of their Stab aircraft. This one has the most bizarre version of all, a Dark Gray chevron with two White and Black outlines, with the outside border formed by the camouflage color. The II. Gruppe bar behind the fuselage cross is made up of two parallel Black lines. Large JG 54 Green Heart under cockpit on both sides. II. Gruppe JG 54 emblem Lion of Aspern on forward fuselage, both sides.
NATIONAL MARKINGS: Fuselage, B3 style 900 mm Black/White crosses.
H2a Black/White Hakenkreuz, note overspray with White snow camouflage
Wings: Upper, B1 style 1000 mm Black/White crosses. Lower: B3 style 900 mm Black/White crosses (Some sources specify 950 mm, others 900 )
STENCILLING: Factory Standard, partially over painted

Assi Hahn Aircraft No. 11 Bf 109 G-2/R6 W. Nr. 13949 II./JG 54 January 1943 Rjelbitzy, Russia
This was the aircraft Major Assi Hahn was flying on his last mission when, after engaging Russian La 5s he was forced down and captured. Notable features include: Vertical bulkhead at rear of canopy with unusual flat overhead armor plate over pilot's head, no fresh air scoops on triangular panel under side windscreen, FuG 25 a antenna intact, Lower portion of landing gear doors removed to eliminate snow impactment, MG 151 20 mm underwing cannon gondolas, and air restrictor panel in oil cooler radiator.
COLORS: Undersurfaces, RLM 76 Light Blue; Uppersurfaces, possibly RLM 75 Gray-Violet/RLM 74 Gray-Green over sprayed with White for snow camouflage, some Gray showing through. Canopy framework mostly RLM 74. (Possibly unusual JG 54 camouflage color pattern of Greens and Grays.) RLM 04 Yellow undercowling partially overpainted with snow camouflage; Yellow underwing tips; Yellow band behind fuselage cross. Spinner, originally White with RLM 70 Black-Green section, partially over sprayed with White for snow camouflage. Prop blades, RLM 70 Black-Green. Typical Stab chevrons of JG 54. Black with White borders outlined with a thin Black edge. Matching II. Gruppe bar behind fuselage cross. Large JG 54 Green Heart unit emblem under cockpit on both sides. II. Gruppe JG 54 emblem Lion of Aspern on forward fuselage, both sides.
NATIONAL MARKINGS: Fuselage: B3 style 900 mm Black/White crosses. H2a Black/White Hakenkreuz
Wings: Upper, B1 style 1000 mm Black/White crosses. Lower: B3 style 900 mm Black/White crosses. (Some sources specify 950 mm, others 900) Stammkennzeichen D under starboard wing, H under port wing, originally DL HW.
STENCILLING: Factory Standard, partially over painted

"Yellow 9" Bf 109 F-2 W. Nr. 9553 Oblt. Siegfried Schnell 9/JG 2 November 1941 France
Schnell flew with Assi Hahn in 4./JG 2 and became one of the most successful pilots on the channel front. 92 victories, awarded the Knight's Cross with Oak Leaves, KIA in Russia 25 Feb 1944.
COLORS: Undersurfaces, RLM 76, Uppersurfaces RLM 75/RLM 74. Spinner & prop blades RLM 70. Yellow undercowling and rudder. Black exhaust area and side of fuselage. White sidewall tail wheel tire.
NATIONAL MARKINGS: Fuselage: B2 style 900 mm Black/White crosses with thin Black outline.
H2 Black/White Hakenkreuz with thin Black outline
Wings: upper: B2 style 1000 mm Black/White crosses with thin Black outline.
Lower: B2 style 900 mm Black/White crosses with thin Black outline.
STENCILLING: Standard; 75 victories recorded on both sides of rudder. 87 octane fuel triangle indicates DB 601 E engine retrofitted.

"White 1" Bf 109 F-4 Egon Mayer 7/JG 2 Late 1941 St. Pol, France
One of the prominent Luftwaffe Experten holder of the Knight's Cross with Oak Leaves and Swords. Achieved 102 victories. KIA 2 March 1944 as Kommodore of JG 2.
COLORS: Undersurfaces, RLM 76, uppersurfaces, RLM 75/RLM 74, heavy mottling, possibly with RLM 70 Black-Green. Spinner and prop blades RLM 70. Yellow undercowling and rudder. Black exhaust area and side of fuselage.
NATIONAL MARKINGS: Fuselage: B2 style 900 mm Black/White crosses with thin Black outline
H2 Black/White Hakenkreuz with thin Black outline
Wings: upper: B2 style 1000 mm Black/White crosses with thin Black outline.
Lower: B2 style 900 mm Black/White crosses with thin Black outline.
STENCILLING: Standard; Staffelkapitän pennant on antenna mast, decal included. Similar to Mayer's Bf 109 F-2 W. Nr. 6720 that displayed 23 victory bars on rudder.
