

EAGLE STRIKE

48162

DEVASTATORS AT WAR

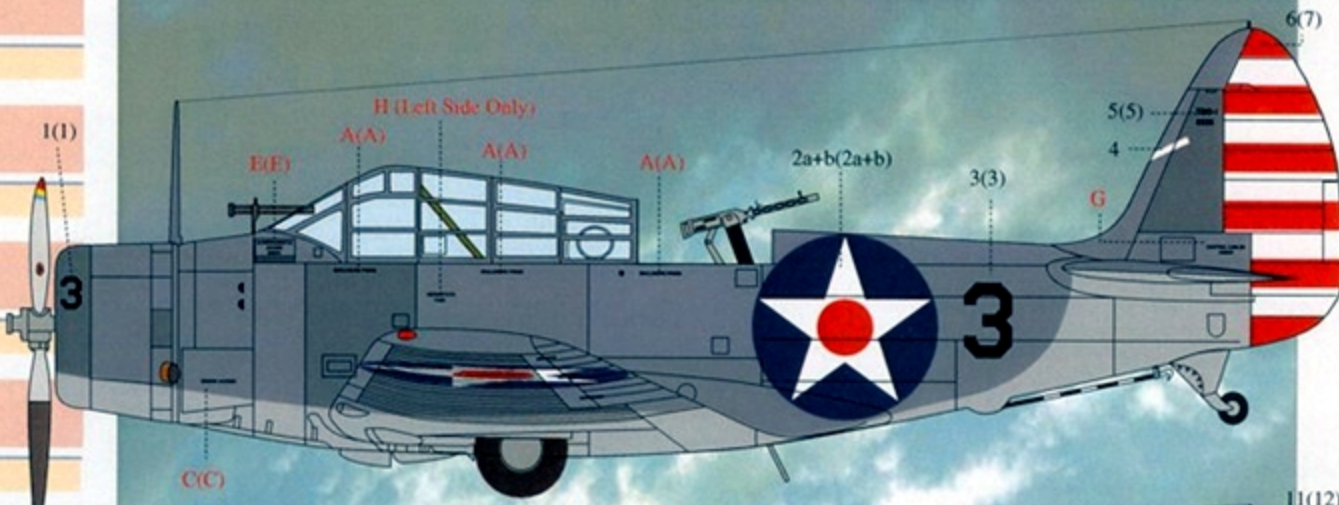

Suggested Kit: - Monogram Devastator.

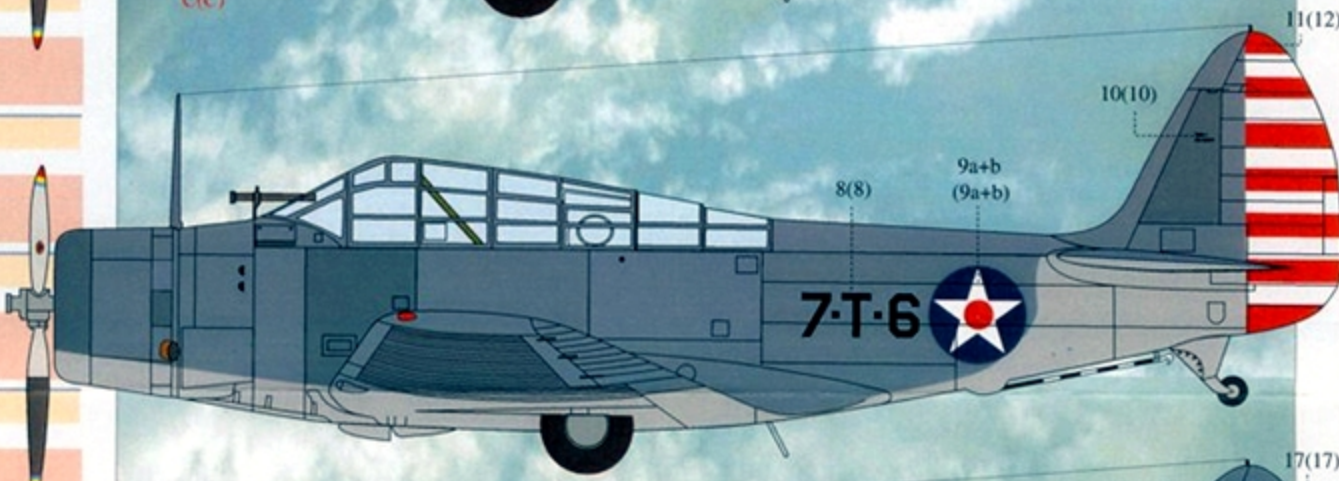

DEVASTATORS AT WAR

48162

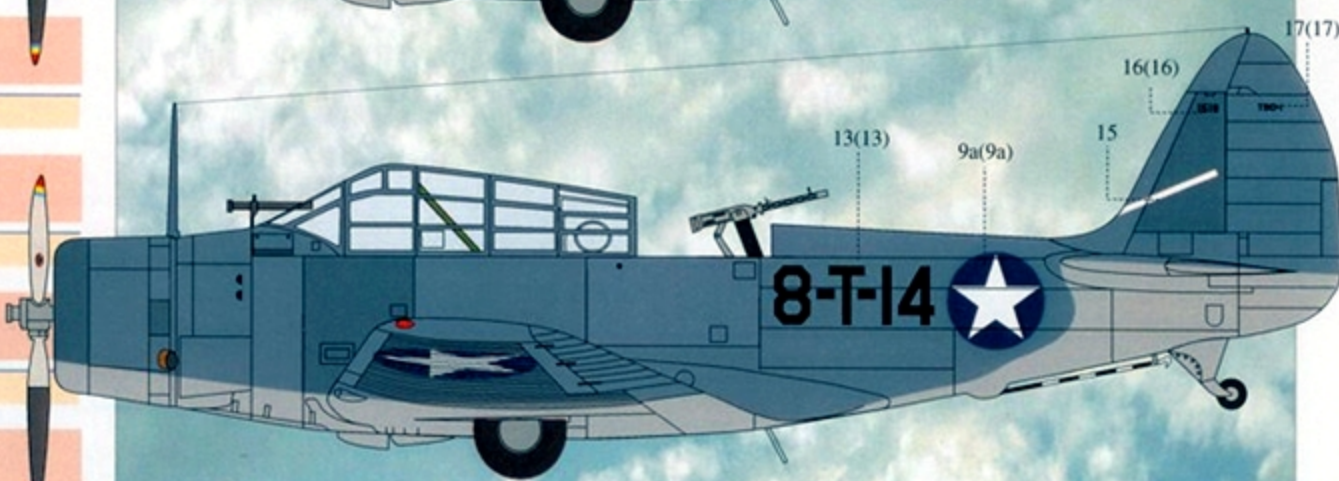

TBD-1 of VT-2. During the Battle of the Coral Sea on 7 May 1942, TBDs of VT-2 and VT-3, sank the Japanese Carrier Shoho. Camouflage in Dark Blue Gray uppers and non specular Light Gray bottoms. Propeller blades and hub were polished aluminum with flat Black back surfaces. Note non standard rudder markings (6 Red and 5 White stripes) and oversized fuselage wing roundels. Under surfaces of wing outer panels also in Dark Blue Gray.

TBD-1 of VT-7 Scapa Flow, April 1942. Camouflage as previous A/C. Standard rudder stripes with White and Black arrestor hook. Mother ship, USS Wasp (CV-7) was delivering Spitfires to Malta, while these A/C performed anti-submarine duties for the British. Wing Insignia on 4 positions. Camouflage as per A/C 1.

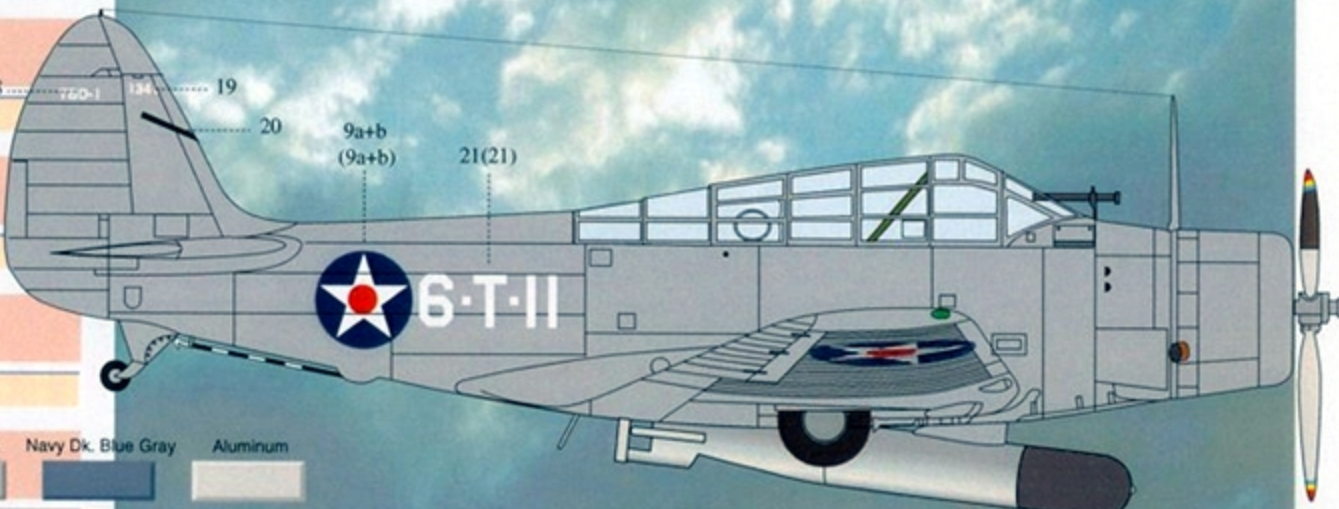

TBD-1 Flown by the only survivor of torpedo Squadron Eight (VT-8), Ens. George Gay during the battle of Midway, June 4, 1942. Camouflaged as per A/C #1.

Catch us on the net!

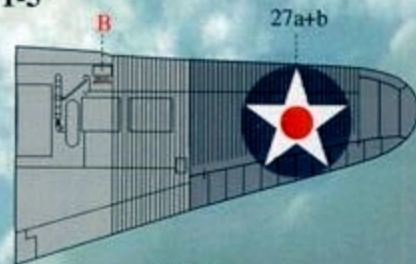

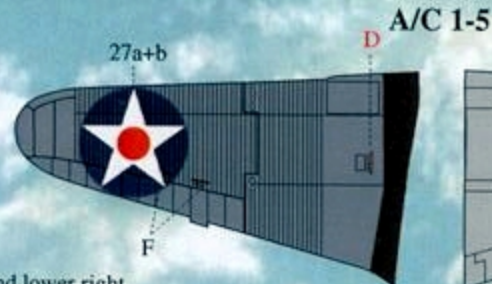

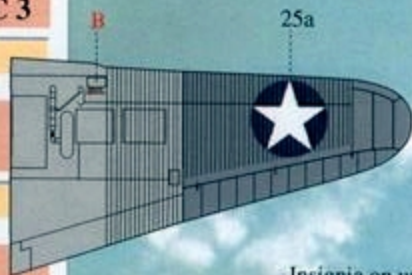

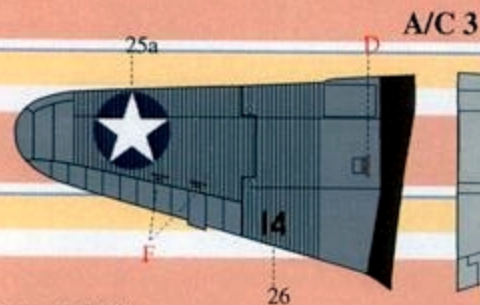

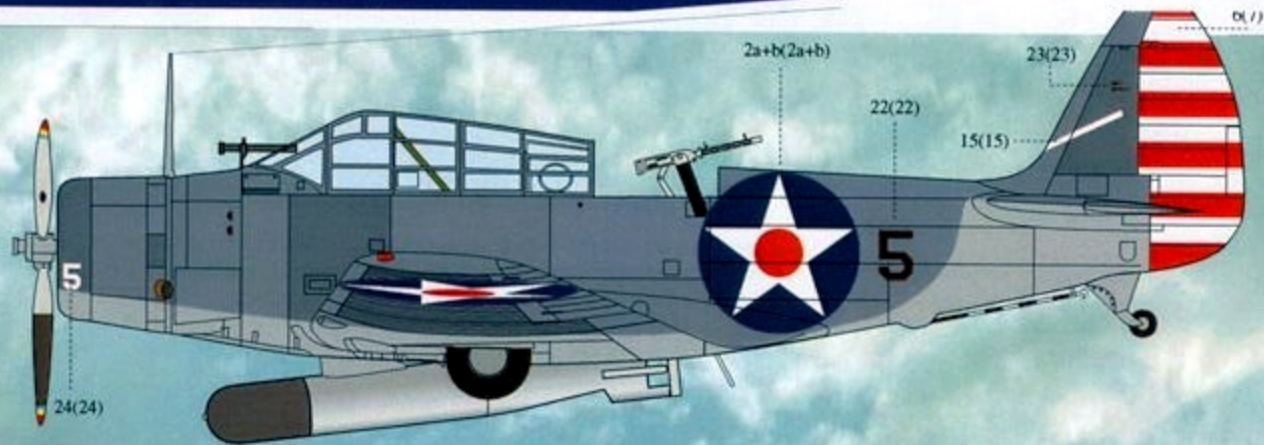

TBD-1 of VT-6 sporting the early tactical camouflage of Non Spec Light Gray overall. Insignia on upper left and lower right wing only.

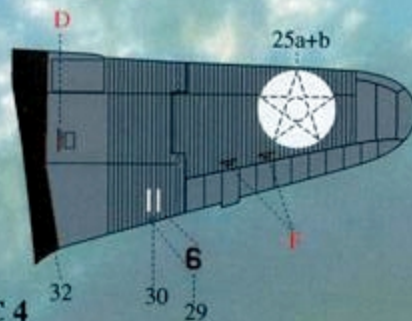

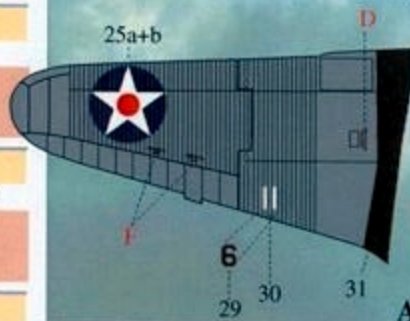

Lt. Gull Gray Navy Dk. Blue Gray Aluminum

TBD-1, 6-T-5 of VT-6, USS Enterprise (CV-6), Battle of Wake Island, 1942. Light Grey undersides, with non specular Blue Grey upper surfaces. Outer portion of wing underside also Blue Grey. Oversized National insignia in six positions, codes in black.

Insignia on upper left and lower right wing only on A/C 2 and 4.

EAGLE STRIKE
Productions

12902 SW 132nd Ct. Miami, FL. 33186
U.S.A.
Ph: (786) 293-0411, Fax: (786) 293-5822.

Suggested Kit:

- Monogram Devastator.

References:

1. Profile Publication # 171. Profile Pub. Ltd.
2. TBD Devastator in Action # 97. Squadron/Signal Publications, 1989.
3. Aviation News, Alan Hall Publications, May, 1994.