Supermarine Spitfire Mk.I P9495 DW-K
610 (County of Chester) Squadron, Biggin Hill
July 1940. One of the most illustrated Battle of Britain Spitfires, P9495 wears the B Pattern of the Temperate Land Scheme camouflage and a
'Duck Egg Blue' shade on its under surfaces.

Supermarine Spitfire Mk.I N3093 QJ-W
'THE VIRGIN'. Flight Lieutenant Denys Gillam. 616 (South Yorkshire) Squadron, Leconfield, August 1940. N3093 has a unit applied under surface colour of Light Blue. Note F/Lt. Gillam's personal cartoon below the cockpit. This aircraft also still carries the pre-war codes of QJ and is the second aircraft with the letter W.

Supermarine Spitfire Mk.IIa P8194 DL-M
'GOLD COAST I'. Flight Lieutenant Don Mackay. 91 (Nigeria) Squadron, Hawkinge, April/May 1940. P8194 was one of numerous 'presentation' aircraft. As a means to aid the war effort, towns, cities and colonies of the British Empire would raise money to sponsor an aircraft.

Spitfire Mk.II, P7531 LZ-I, 421 Flight, RAF Hawkinge, November 1940. Flown by S/Ldr C. Greene, DSO & DFC. RAF Dark Earth, Dark Green & Sky camouflage (Type A pattern) with black spinner. Fin flashes have 7" stripe widths.

Note: A/C 1&4, right side codes overlap serial numbers.
