The command airplane "PIRAMIDERS" during the raid to Ploesti, Romania on 1st August 1943. Returning from mission it was quite demolished after the forced landing on Cyprus. Ten bombers of the 343rd wing were named after the characters of W. Disney's film about the Snow White and seven dwarfs and besides the names they had also the corresponding drawings. The depicted Liberator was named "Grumpy" before the raid, but the patriotic name "Hail Columbia" was chosen for the raid.

Velitelský letoun "PYRAMIDERS" při náletu na rumunské Ploesti dne 1. srpna 1943. Při návratu skončil zcela zdemolován po nouzovém přistání na Kypru. Deset bombardérů 343. perutě neslo názvy podle postavíček z filmu W. Disneyho o Sněhurce a sedmi trpaslíčích. Kromě názvů nesly samozřejmě i příslušné kresby. Zobrazený Liberator se před náletem jmenoval "GRUMPY" (Rejpal), ale pro nálet byl zvolen vlastenecký název "HAIL COLUMBIA" (Sláva Kolumbi).
